6. Important Notes

- Registration in BOGL's vendor database does not constitute a guarantee of contract award, procurement engagement or payment.
- Successful registration does not automatically qualify a vendor for every procurement opportunity. Specific technical and commercial evaluations may apply.
- BOGL reserves the right to conduct due diligence, verify submitted documents and assess the capacity of prospective vendors.
- Vendors may be contacted to provide quotations, product samples, technical specifications or additional documentation as procurement needs arise.
- There is no fee required for submission of an Expression of Interest. Applicants should beware of individuals requesting payment on behalf of BOGL.
